MILLION

Will be Power Co.'s Capital.

Its Plant Will Cost
About $600,000.

Cost of Operation Comparatively Small.

Said That Most of the Options Are Secured.

A special to the Democrat from Columbus, says regarding the plan to harness the power of the Cuyahoga river, that the report is confirmed that Cleveland and Columbus capitalists have decided to incorporate a company to utilize the power at below the Big Falls. It is the purpose of the company to supply Akron, Cuyahoga Falls, and other surrounding towns.

G. A. Ritchie, who has successfully promoted similar enterprises in various parts of the world, is said to be at the head of the project and it is reported that the company will soon be incorporated under the laws of Ohio with a capital stock of $1,000,000. It is estimated that the cost of construction of the plant will approximate $600,000.

Nothing definite can be learned with respect to the plans of the proposed company, but the rumors are persistent and well defined. The promoters it is said, figure that the plant should have a capacity of 3,000 horse-power, to be increased as seems necessary.
They believe that the cost of operation will be small and that electric power may be furnished to many cities at small cost.

Representatives of the men interested in the scheme have already secured options on most of the property about the falls.

EVERETT AND MOORE.

How They Began Their Business Careers.

Started as Clerk and Office Boy and Are Now Millionaires.

So much has been said and written late about the Everett-Moore syndicate that the interest of the public has naturally been drawn toward the gentlemen who planted and made possible the gigantic system of electric railways which so plainly displays their enterprise and shrewd, business qualifications. Scarcely a day goes by without containing mention of this syndicate in some newspaper or other, or else a biography of either Henry A. Everett or Edward W. Moore. Both are reckoned as among the leading financiers of the country, each being a millionaire. Mr. Everett began his career in the business world as a clerk and Mr.
Moore began as office boy. The former is 45 years old and the latter 37.

HENRY A. EVERETT.

Mr. Everett was born in Cleveland, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Azariah Everett, and was educated in the public and private schools of Cleveland. He is old New England and German stock.
His first occupation, at the age of 13, was as a clerk in the offices of the East Cleveland Railroad Co. Now he employs 10,000 men, and controls the system of which he was once office clerk. Mr. Everett was the pioneer electric street railway man in the Dominion of Canada, having in 1892 been selected by the City Council of Toronto to supervise as an expert the conversion of the then existing horse-car lines into a modern electric system.
He afterward became vice president and managing director of the Toronto Railway, and at the same time acted in a similar capacity with the Montreal Street Railway Co., while that line was being transformed into an up-to-date electric system. In 1894, Mr. Everett, with Greene Pack and Albert Pack, secured a franchise in Detroit for a new railway system on a three-cent basis, and not long afterward had the line in operation. He began, in 1895, to investigate the independent telephone situation, and early in the year organized a company in Detroit to give lower rates and better service than the Bell Co. Shortly afterward, the Everett-Moore people acquired the property and franchises of the Home Telephone Co. of Cleveland, and changing its name to the Cuyahoga Telephone Co. have put it upon a paying basis in Cleveland, with 8,000 subscribers. The syndicate is now establishing an independent telephone company in Detroit.

An idea of the vastness of Mr. Everett's operations may be obtained from this partial list of his positions
